Try To Remember
A Year Of Activity

... A mist of shadowy things;
Laughter and memories, and a few regrets,
Some honour, and a quantity of debts,
A doubt or two of sorts, a trust in God,
...
Will estimate the weight I bear and cry --
"Comrade!"

We are a part of all

MEMORIES-

MEMORIES have formed our lives. It is in the process of remembering that all our heartaches, joys, and fears again flow before us in a river of memories.

Through MEMORIES, we recall all that has happened and has lent change to our lives. We can recall past thoughts, events, and friendships and by comparison to the present, find that we are slowly maturing into adults.

MEMORIES revive the past, are made in the present, and make us most anxious for the future.

The students of West Rowan proudly dedicates this, the eighth edition of the WEST WIND for the year of 1967 to Mrs. Sue Walser: A teacher of rare spirit who can, while upholding her duties as a teacher, be a part of the student life.

Mr. Charles E. Fleming - Principal

A Message To The Class of 1967—

Mr. Doug Chalk - Assistant Principal

Congratulations! May you always possess the courage to face hardships, the wisdom to solve problems, and the faith to overcome obstacles; and may your heart be filled with the joy of serving, the peace of forgiving, and the happiness of loving mankind.

Charles E. Fleming
Principal

Mrs. Evelyn Hall serves our school in many capacities. She is known for her continual devotion to and interest in students and their activities.

She is to be commended for the way the school's administrative affairs are handled. Her service to our school is not only recognized, but deeply appreciated by the faculty as well as by the entire student body.

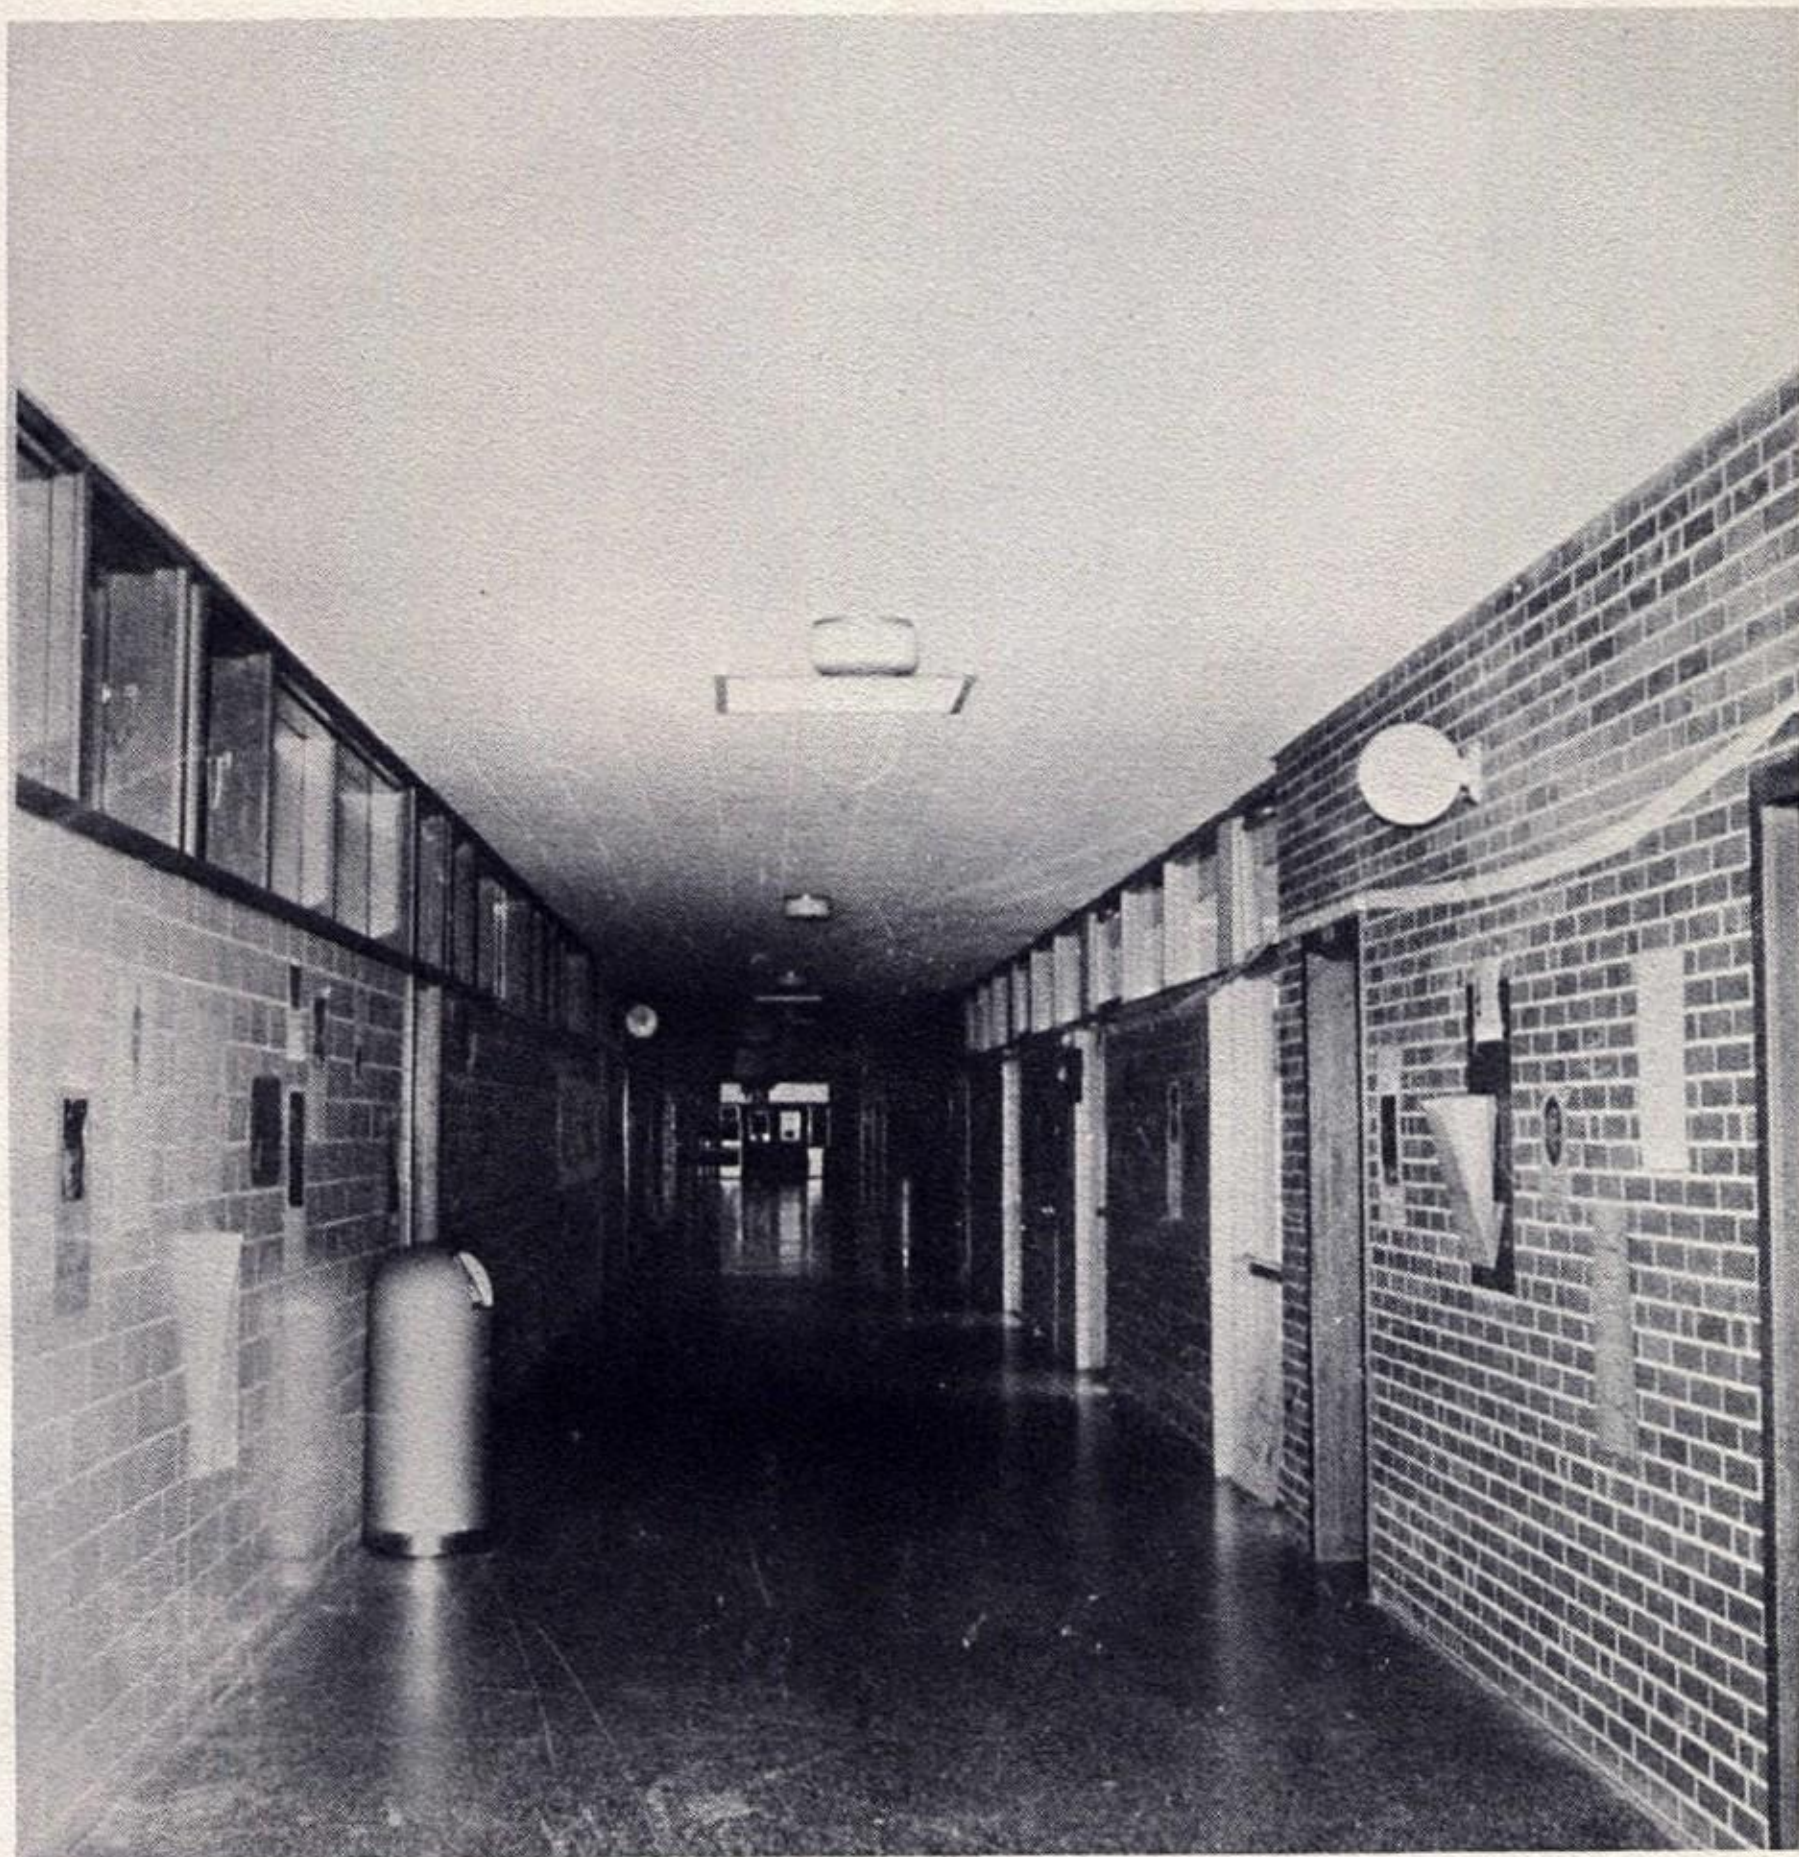

Mrs. Hazel Hall, special teacher's aid, has become a welcome addition to our list of faculty members. She grades papers for English teachers and assists with the many duties of the school office.

Patsy Campbell and Doris Smith served us in the capacity of office assistants.

many helpful concepts

The English Department continues to develop the vital communication skills necessary for a complete understanding of the English language.

In addition to required English curriculum, the department also offers several electives to stimulate the student's mind and interest. Public Speaking and Drama provides a student with experience and personal benefits for those interested. English V, which has replaced Advanced Grammar and Composition, not only increases a student's writing ability but also broadens his perspectives toward world literature.

Mathematics help us

With the emphasis that is placed on mathematics in today's modern world, West Rowan High School is extremely fortunate in the scope and excellence of its mathematics program. The skilled and well-trained teachers who make up this department are always ready to aid students who are eager to learn.

Courses in every aspect of mathematics are available in the curriculum for students whose desire and interest lead them to that particular study. The curriculum includes Algebra I and II, Plane Geometry, Advanced Algebra and Trigonometry, and General Mathematics. The math department is another example of the extensive planning and instruction carried on for the benefit of the WRHS student.

solve scientific equations

The study of science is necessary in order to prepare us for the changes which daily discoveries bring about. These discoveries which are being made in science make our lives easier and more enjoyable.

The field of science is much too extensive to be properly studied under a general topic. This is one of the main reasons why five distinct science courses are offered: General Science, Biology, Chemistry, Physics, and Advanced Biology. Interest as well as ability determine the student's choice of subject. Regardless of which a student decides to pursue, he can always learn more about the things he has for so long taken for granted. Science is the future, and anyone who understands any portion of this vast field holds a key to success.

The evolution of

Mr. Waller makes a point in his World History class.

The curriculum of the History Department provides for the study of the lives and times of the past, along with recognition of the valuable gifts of art, law, and learning which have advanced mankind.

The Social Sciences offered at West are U. S. History, World History, Bible, Government and Economics, and Civics. U. S. History and World History help students realize the importance of certain dates and events to the affairs of the world.

The Government courses are designed to prepare students for their active part as citizens and to understand the application of government in the modern world of today.

The Language Department continues to offer a limited program in the two-year courses of French and Latin. To be bilingual is to grow both intellectually and culturally while it also broadens the student's appreciation for other civilizations.

Students are enriched not only by achieving a working vocabulary in their chosen language, but also by learning of the history and culture of the country.

Marion and Gary receive helpful comments from Mr. Lyerly.

In order to teach those who desire to learn technical skills, WRHS provides five courses to help the student: Shop, Technical Drafting, Industrial Arts I and II, and Carpentry.

Closely related to the Industrial Arts is Vocational Agriculture and the Future Farmers of America.

The F.F.A. is designed to improve country life through the development of agriculture leadership, thrift, and co-operation.

Bobby Sherrill is hard at work in carpentry class.

Business courses train tomorrow's leader

Students who desire to prepare for employment in business are aided through the various courses offered by the Business Department.

Training is available in the following subjects: Shorthand I and II, Typing I and II, Consumer Math, Bookkeeping, and Office Practice.

These courses endeavor to set standards in this particular vocation, with the hope that the students themselves will continue to improve upon these criteria in future years.

Mr. Koontz prepares the baseball field for the season opener.

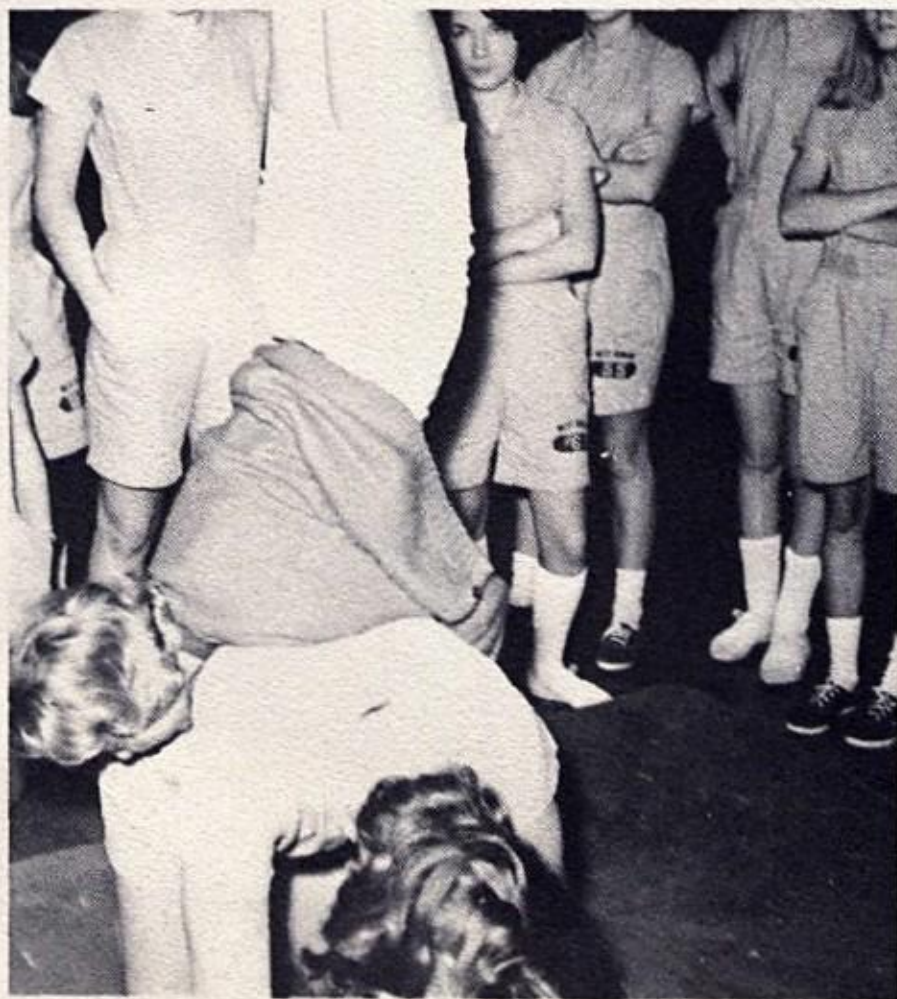

The first two years of a student's curriculum are set up so that he may be able to take Physical Education and Driver's Education.

These courses are given as part of the program to improve physical fitness and driving abilities.

Physical Education and Health are given the Freshman year with a full credit. The Sophomore year is divided individually into Physical Education and Driver's Education with only a half-credit given, so that a student by the time he is sixteen will be eligible and prepared to apply for a driver's license.

Guidance . . . in life and studies

There are two active members in the Guidance Department - - Mrs. McIntyre and Mrs. Sowers.

Mrs. McIntyre, who serves as school librarian, strives to make WRHS library complete with books for student reference as well as pleasure reading.

Mrs. Sowers, Guidance Counselor, helps students in many ways. She aids in schedule planning, career planning, and during the Senior year she fills out transcripts, scholarship and loan references for college bound students.

These two women play a very important part in the student's life outside the classroom.

Marching band, majorettes build morale,

The Band serves many purposes in the school. It succeeds in developing individual talents to peaks of performance, often involving the learning of intricate skills in several instruments. Years of drill and hours of practice pay off during the high school years, when separate musicians come together to make up one harmonious sound.

Promotion of school spirit during athletic events, producing a public image of which the school can be proud, performing cultural entertainment enjoyed by all who listen, and welding together students of all types into a common fellowship are only a few of the functions served by the Band.

Dedicated Maintenance and Cafeteria Staffs Serve WRHS

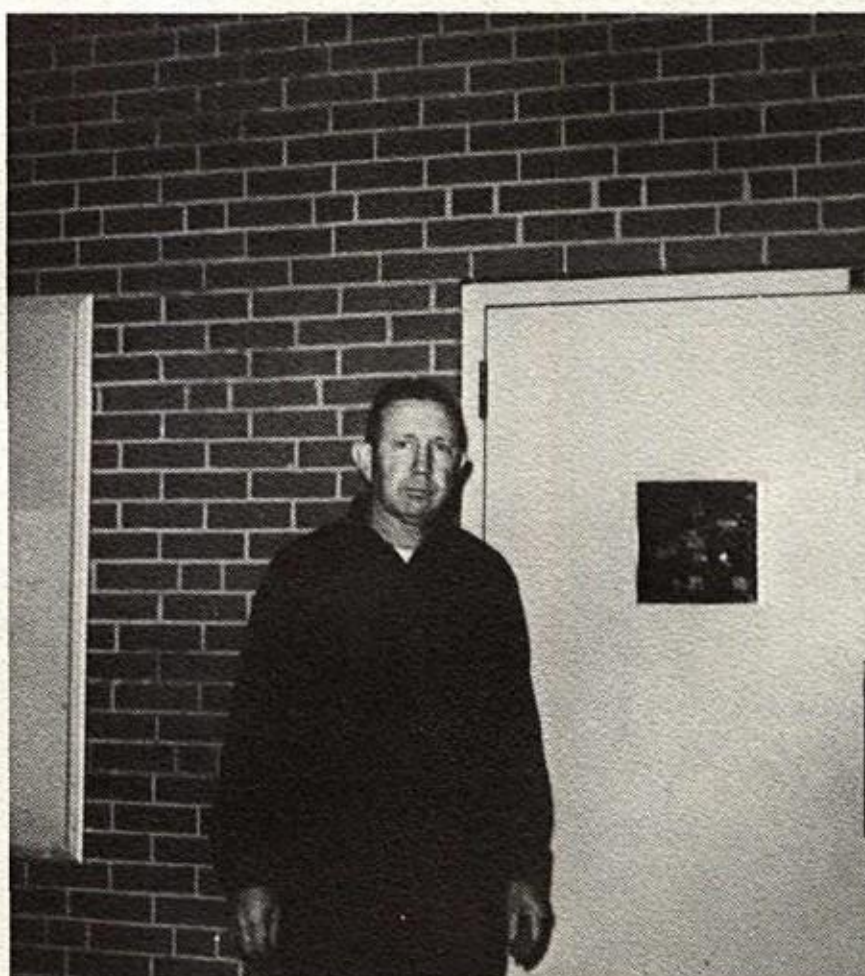

Mr. Misenheimer pauses from duties.

The lunchroom personnel come early each morning to plan, prepare, and serve lunches, after which they must clean up and begin the endless round again.

A thankless job, lunchroom work includes accommodating special diet problems, keeping up with daily finances, serving banquets and special groups when asked, and balancing a delicate budget.

All of the functions of the cafeteria are subject to supervision and direction of numerous supervisors.

The good humor always found behind the serving tables is due entirely to the personalities of the people there.

The WEST WIND is the complete coverage of the year's activities at WRHS.

The students who make up the WEST WIND staff work hard all year and strive to include every event that is of importance to the West student body.

They must spend hours of identifying pictures, writing copy, laying out pages, and racking their brains for creative, new ideas in order to make their WEST WIND better than all others.

The work is hard and often trying, but when the deadline is met and they can breathe a sigh of relief, the work seems to vanish into the anticipation of the results - for new and different ideas.

To W. R. H. S.:

What do you think of cropping this picture and allowing the adjoining one to bleed? Do you realize we have twenty-five extra pictures on the last page of this class? Problems, questions and more problems - then finally an answer - the 1967 WEST WIND.

As always the staff worked hard, but this year with a staff of only ten members each person put in many hours of extra work. The editors are usually given the most credit in putting out an annual but this year that statement would be completely without support. No certain staff or member can be given the initial credit because the various staffs within the one intermingled with the result of each person contributing to all the staffs.

However, special recognition must be given to some members who efficiently aided the staff greatly. First, to Susan Gaskey, our Business Manager, who has doubled as typist, writer, and photographer. Her exact records of annual sales has allowed us to work without worry of who has bought an annual or if all bills have been paid. Barbara Faison who worked in many fields and sometimes worked alone made her password "Is there anything I can do." The Sports section is a triumph and to Steve Jarrett, Sports Editor and photographer, and to Linda Watson, Assistant Art Editor, go our many thanks. Although pictures to most are the most important, without writing, an annual would be of no literary value. To Kathy Wyatt, Literary Editor, goes thanks and relief in that she wrote without concern for one group or class but to the whole student body. But, to whom the whole school owes their thanks is to Mrs. Morton, our advisor. She was not a teacher to us but a person who understood our desire for a better annual. She left us free to think, create, and lay out in print an annual which truly belongs to everyone.

It's finished now and the memories that were made each day are recorded.

Honor clubs add

Mr. Waller, history teacher, finds time to advise J.C.C.

The membership of the Junior Civitan club is made of all persons who have a 90 scholastic average and a high citizenship average.

Its purpose is to promote high ideals in the students in its membership.

Each year the club undertakes one project. This year the Junior Civitan painted parking spaces for the buses.

Newly-tapped members of the N.H.S. take the vows of the club.

The National Honor Society strives to project the image of scholarship, supported by the traits of character, leadership, and service. Its members are required to maintain their scholastic average in order to stay in the club.

During this school year, the Society has held a tapping ceremony and reception for the newly-acquired members, a campaign for exam studying, and a flag-raising ceremony.

Queen Ann Smith

Few events in the course of the school year held for all students the color and excitement of Homecoming. Anticipation and pride marked the festive occasions which dominated the conversations and minds of West students for weeks. When at last the event was completed and the stadium darkened during half-time there remained many impressions to last through the coming years. One other facet of the night found character in the nostalgia of those who had returned for this night to watch the spectacle of "the game" and the glory of the half-time ceremonies. For each person Homecoming gave a different meaning, but for each person Homecoming gave memories to recall that this is West Rowan High School.

Jr.-Sr. "April In Paris"

On April 28th the Junior class honored the Senior class with a mystical evening set in a romantic atmosphere of beauty and wonder. The theme of the prom was "April In Paris."

The main event of the evening was the crowning of the queen and king. The Junior class elected Ann Smith, queen, and Steve Jarrett, king, who, accompanied by the members of the Grand March, danced to the tune of "I Love Paris."

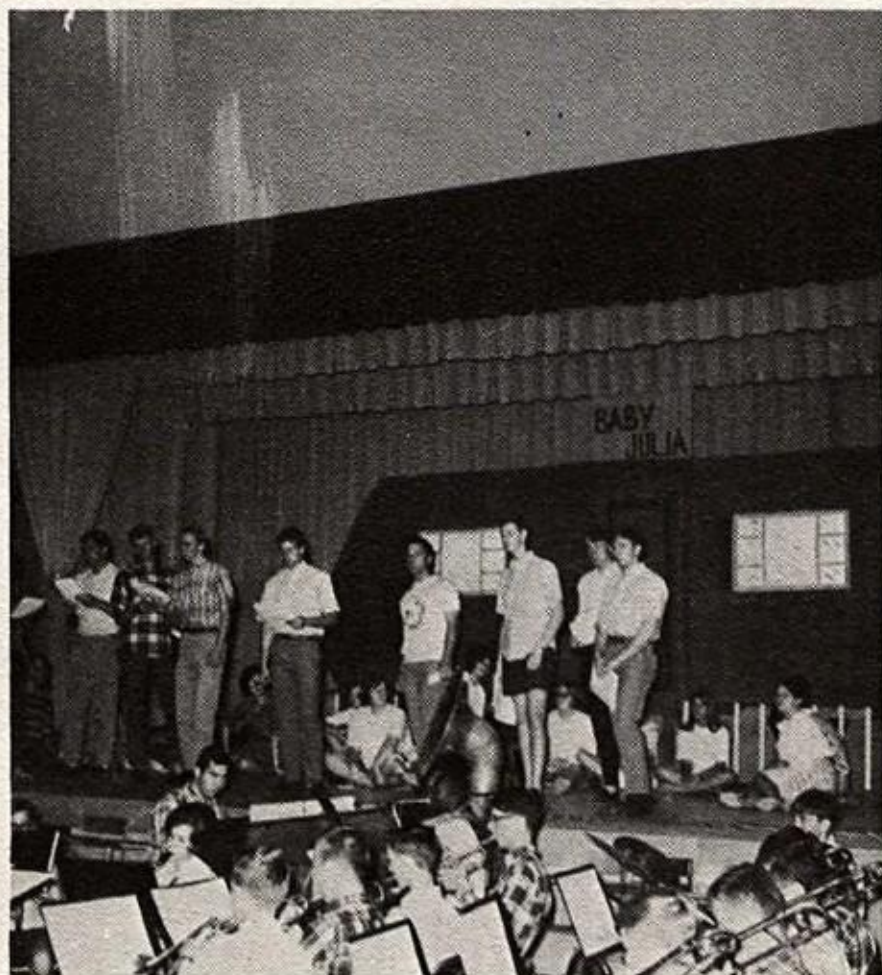

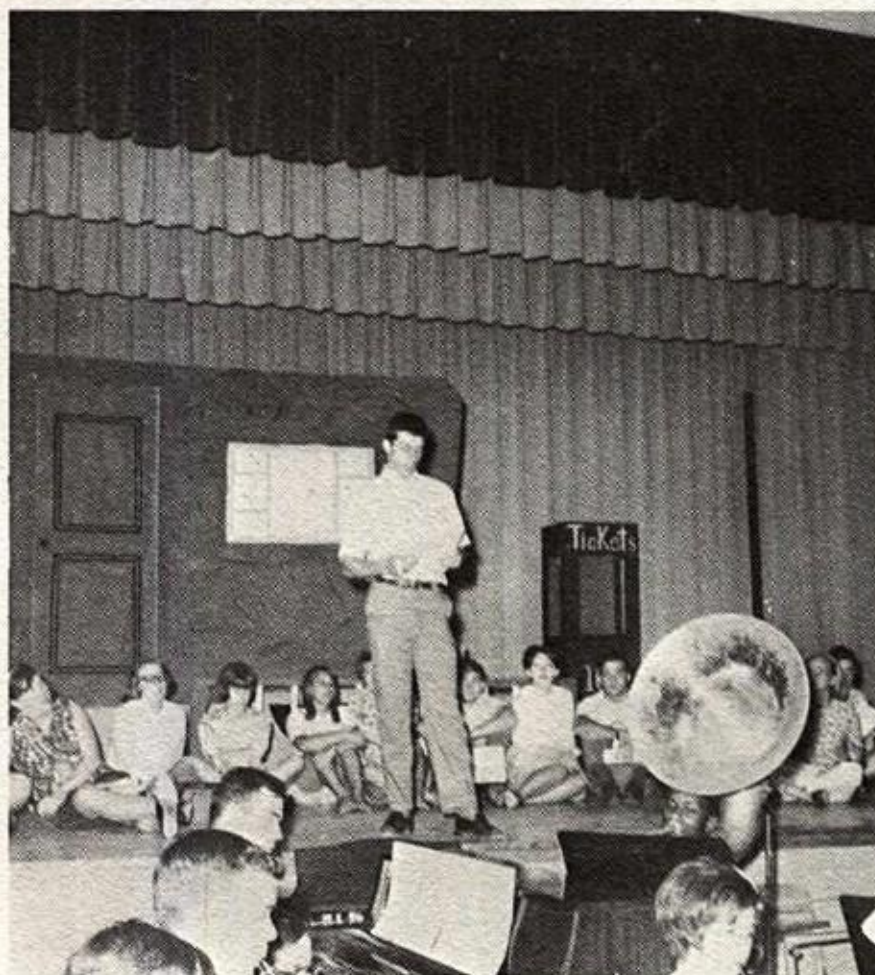

"Aggy", played by Kathy Wyatt, and the girls' chorus practice "It Was Never Meant to be."

The Play—hours of tiring practice—

The male chorus, led by Bill Poston as "Lefty", sing "Hey, Rube."

Joe Early, romantic lead, sings "Maria."

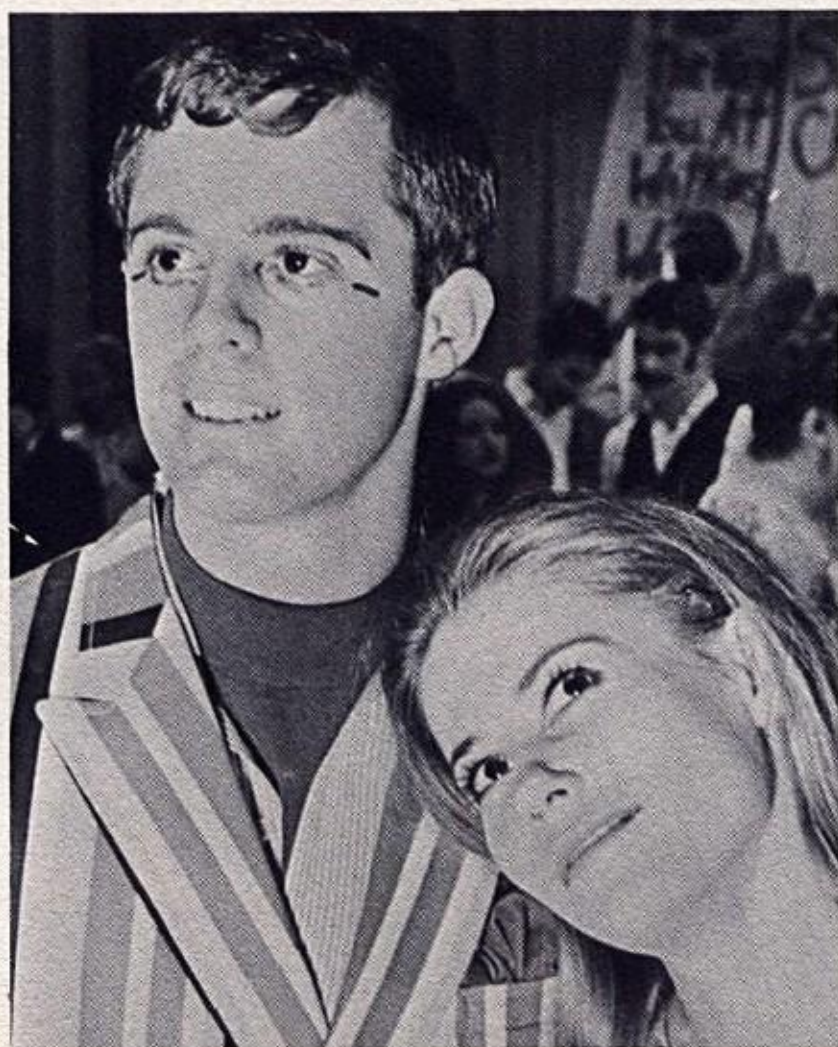

Ma, the strong personality of the play, sings out.

No circus was ever more colorful!

then: "On With The Show"

Danny and Maria find themselves . . . in love!

Elections

Is this a new type of interior decoration?

Each spring the halls of West take on the appearance of the wanted list in the F. B. I. Headquarters. For, this is the time of elections, and each poster shouts that its candidate is WANTED for a certain office.

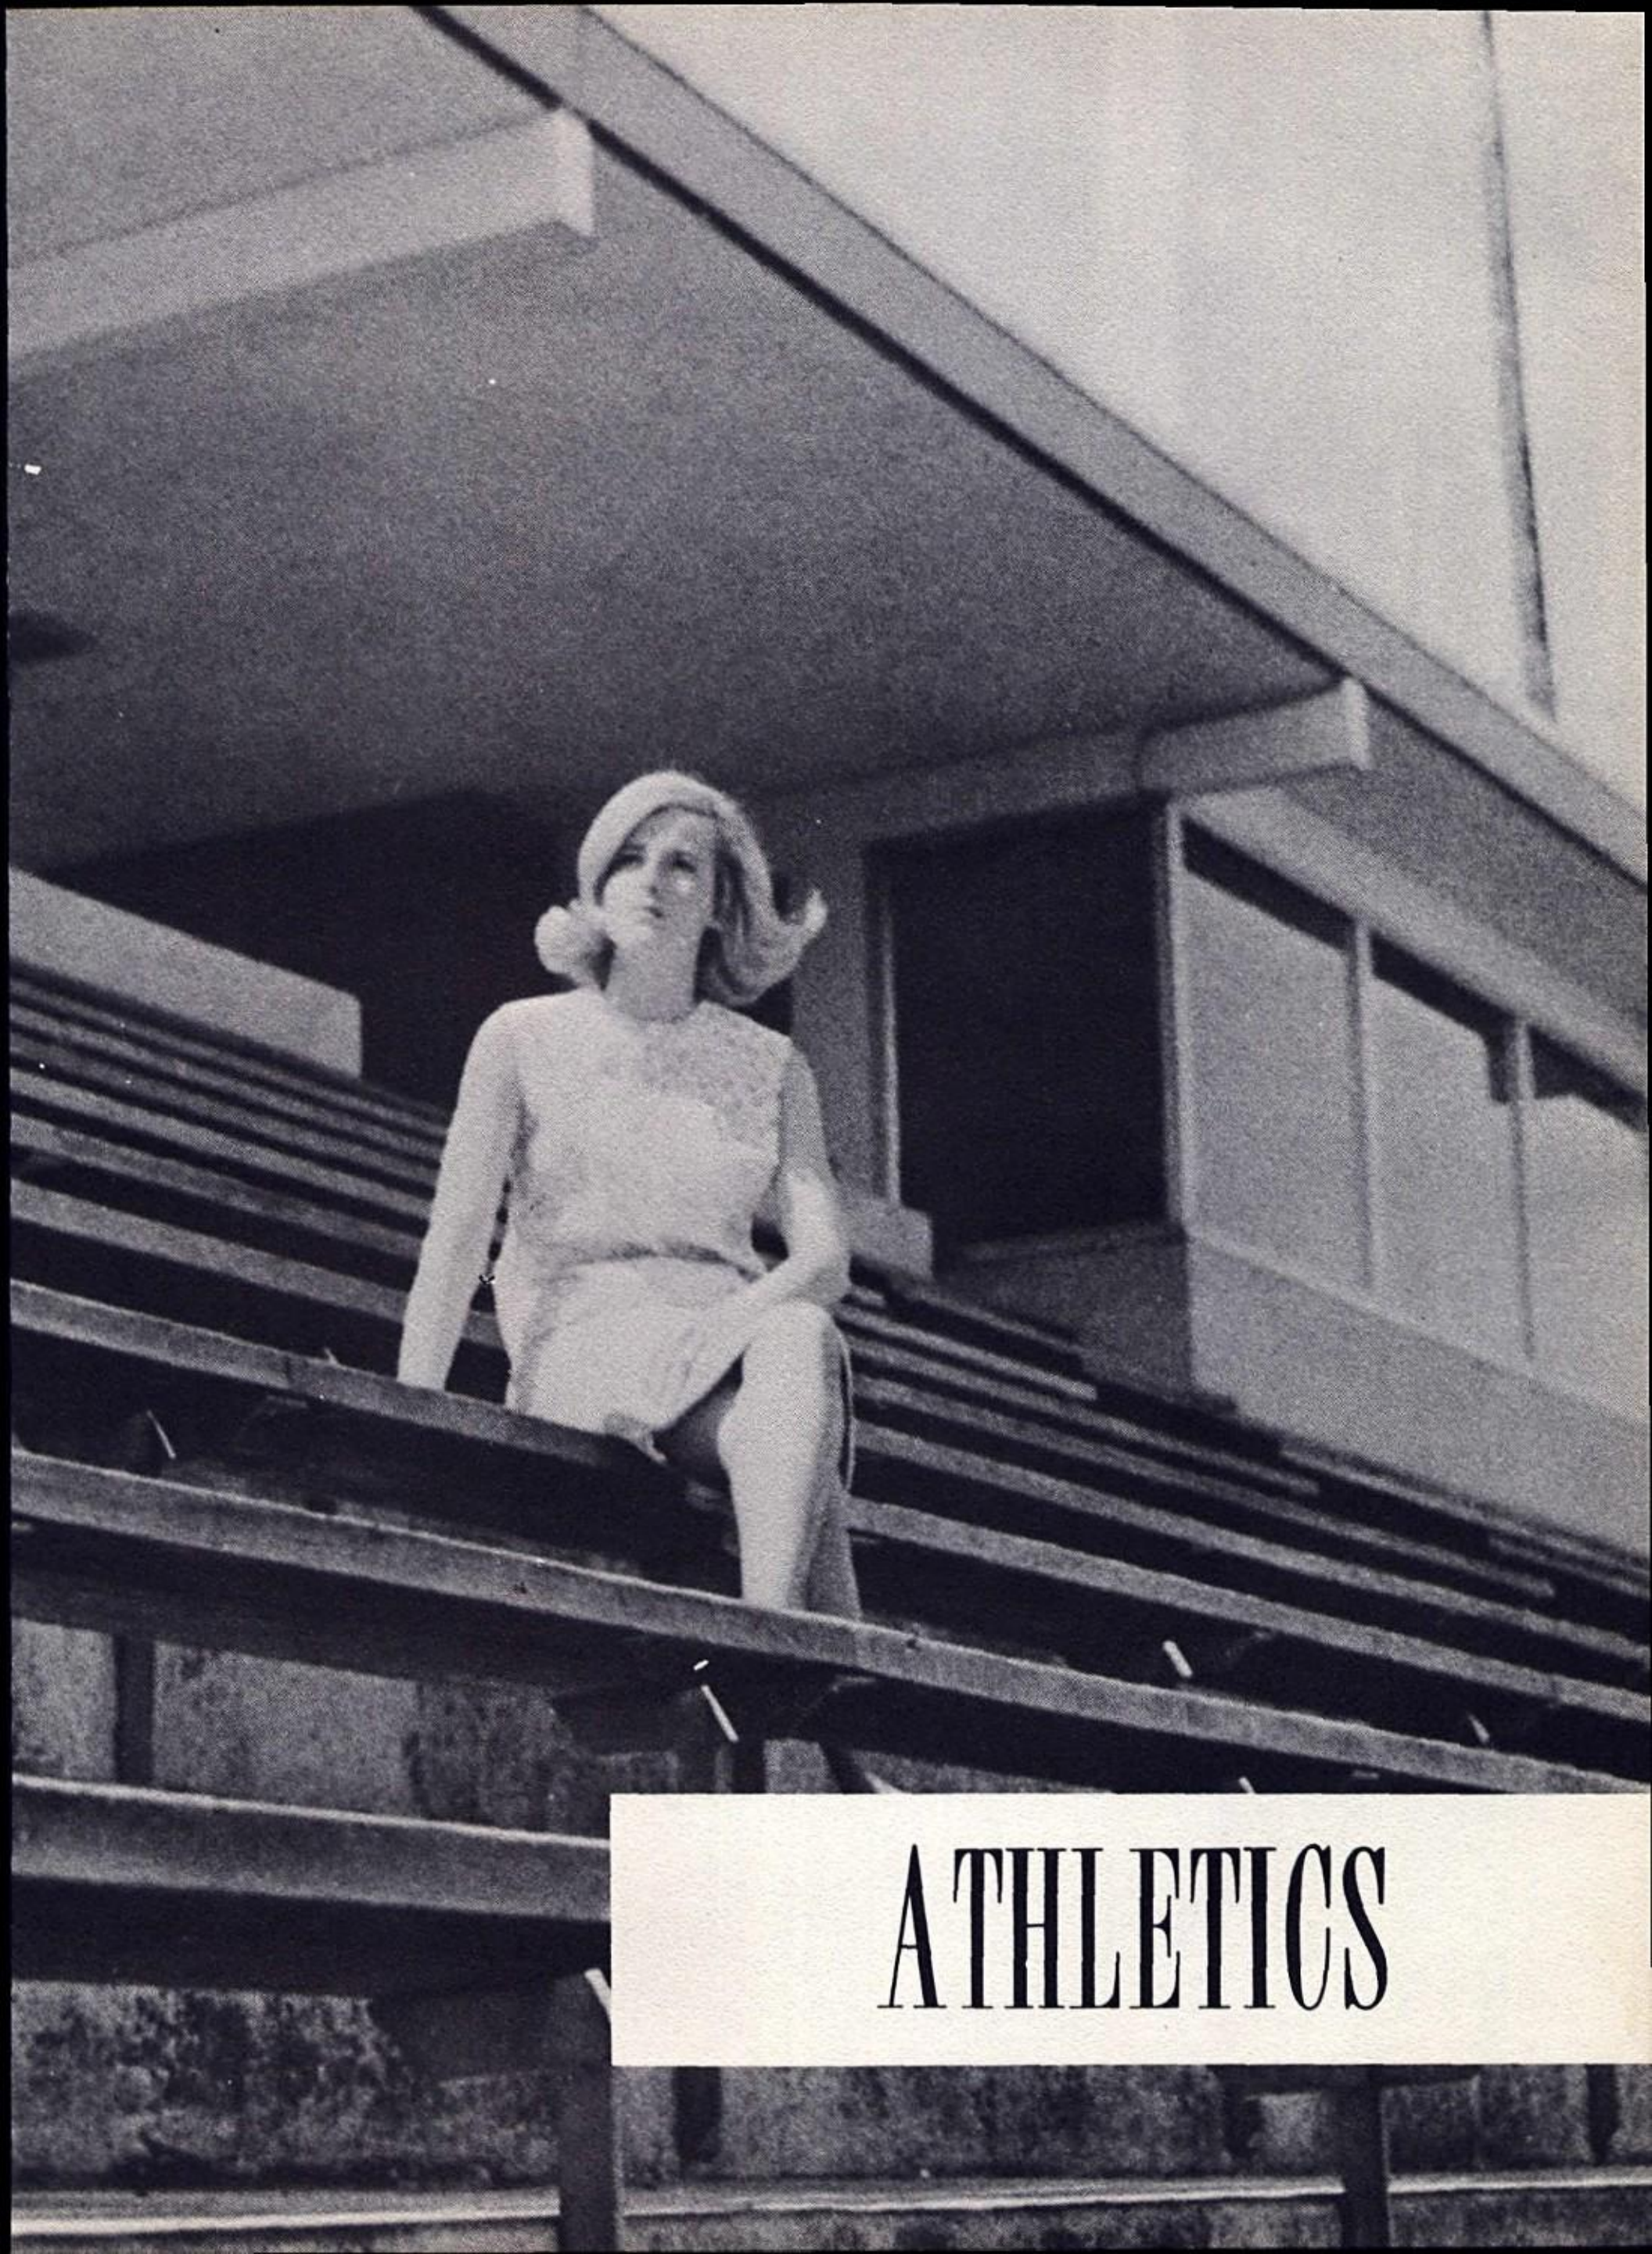

This is a time of frenzy and sometimes small quarrels, but when the ballots are counted and the results reported, there seems to be a unanimous feeling that "the best man won."

Decisions! Decisions! Decisions!

ATHLETICS

The Falcons were headed by Jim Koontz, Bruce Morton, and Doug Chalk.

West began its football season this year with a small number of lettermen, a group of young sophomores, a new coach, and new offensive and defensive patterns. Coach Bruce Morton's first game was a surprise as his young Falcons handed the Rebels of South Rowan a 20-0 setback. The win marked the first win for West in six years of rivalry with South.

The West defense which was the key to West's success this past year shocked a strong Reidsville team by recording its second consecutive shutout 12-0. South Piedmont contender, Kannapolis became the first team to score against West as it roared to a 26-6 victory over the Falcons. The Falcons missed by a foot tying the North Piedmont champions Mooresville when an extra point conversion failed and the Falcons lost 7-6.

Coach Chalk

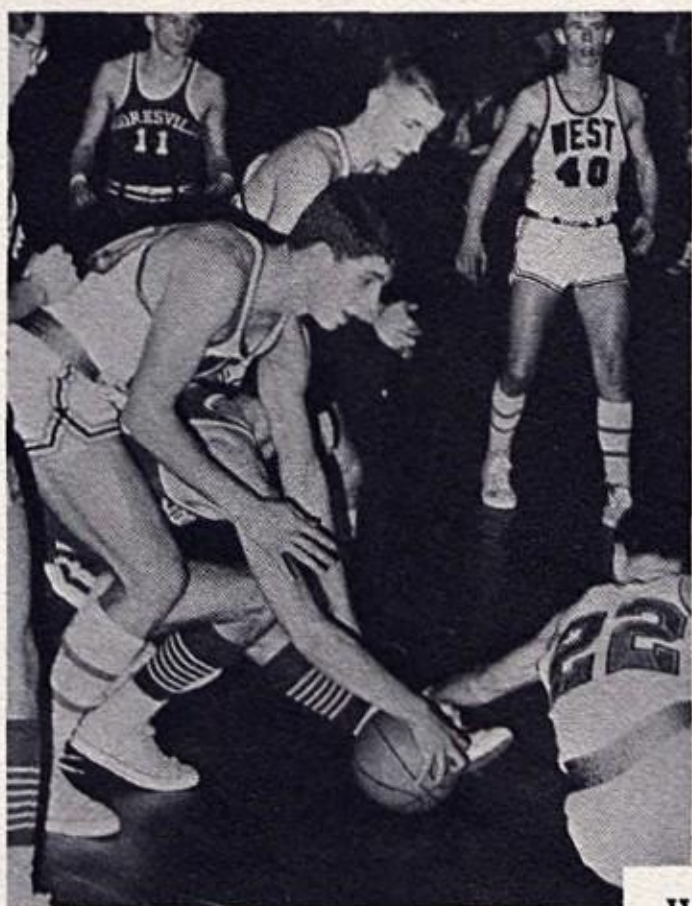

Thirteen can be a pretty unlucky number, according to the boys' varsity team. It was just that small number of points that lost the team seven games during the 1967 season. Although haunted by several heart-breaking defeats, the Falcons came through with a 9-7 overall record.

Two players, Roger McSwain and Dwight Graham, both juniors, received distinction by being selected for the All-County Team. Roger also was honored by being named to the All-Conference Team.

Captain Don Rape

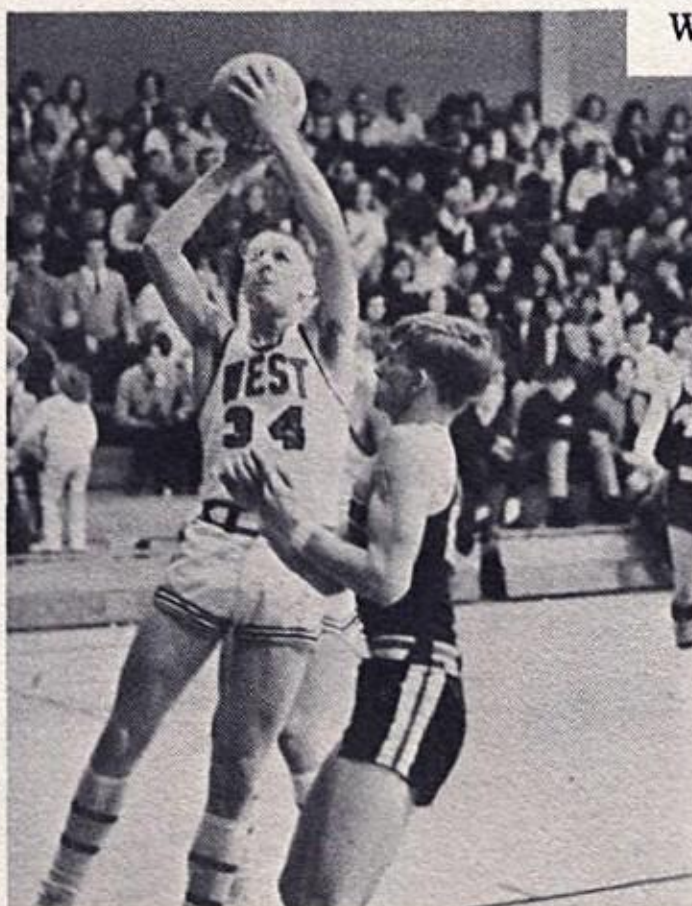

Okay, boys, just hand it over to me.

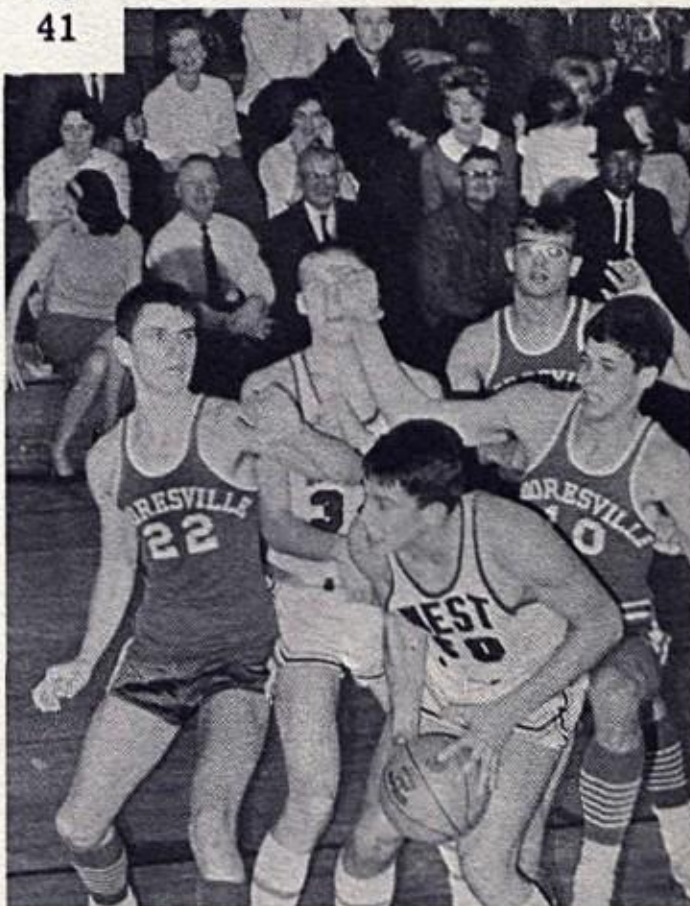

Three guesses who won this one!

Coach Phyllis Holland and her captains Ann Smith, Emily Hall, and Doris Smith.

The girls' basketball team had an 8-10 record for the season. Led by Emily Hall, All-County and All-Conference Team member, the Falconettes finished fifth in the North Piedmont Conference.

Although they played hard this year, the Falconettes often lost to their opponents by only one or two points.

The most exciting night of the season was against unbeaten North Stanly. The Falconettes led to the end and then lost by a single point.

Track '66-'67

The varsity WRHS track team had several outstanding members this year - Bill Cranfield, John Hall, and Bobby Johnson. Cranfield and Johnson were both winners in the associational track meet. Cranfield won in the pole vault; Johnson, in the shot put. Hall scored high in the hurdles and high jump.

The freshman track team also distinguished itself. Benny Hillard and Harold Young were outstanding in the hundred yard and mile, respectively.

Classes

Class of '67 experiences rewarding year,

"At last -- I have arrived" is a feeling which is shared by the entire Senior class. For this is the last year of high school, the year which will release you into the world.

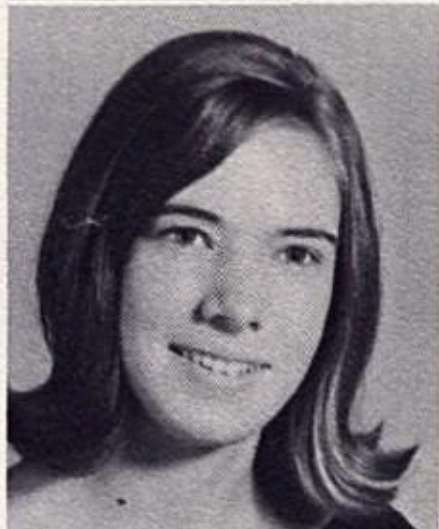

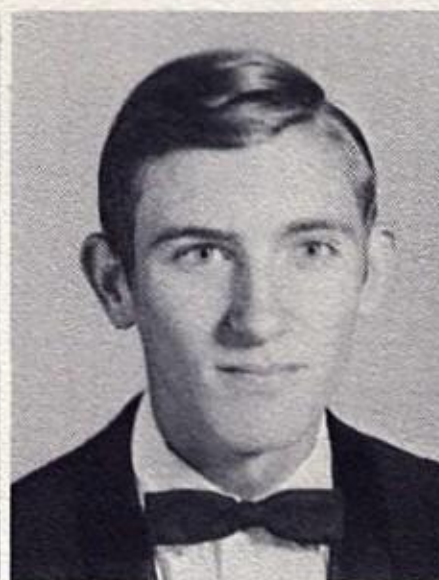

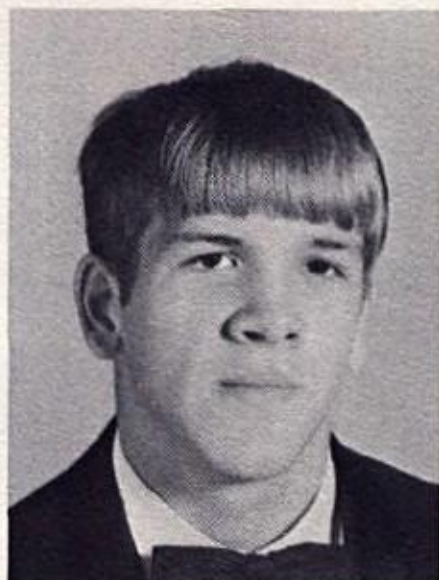

The year stands for many things -- priority on the exit of assemblies, graduating honors, and college acceptances. This year will end the memories you began as a Freshman and place you alone on the horizon of life.

The Sophomore has escaped his "punk" year and is now considered "dumb." His year is not as exciting as the Freshman's for he is settled in the ways of high school.

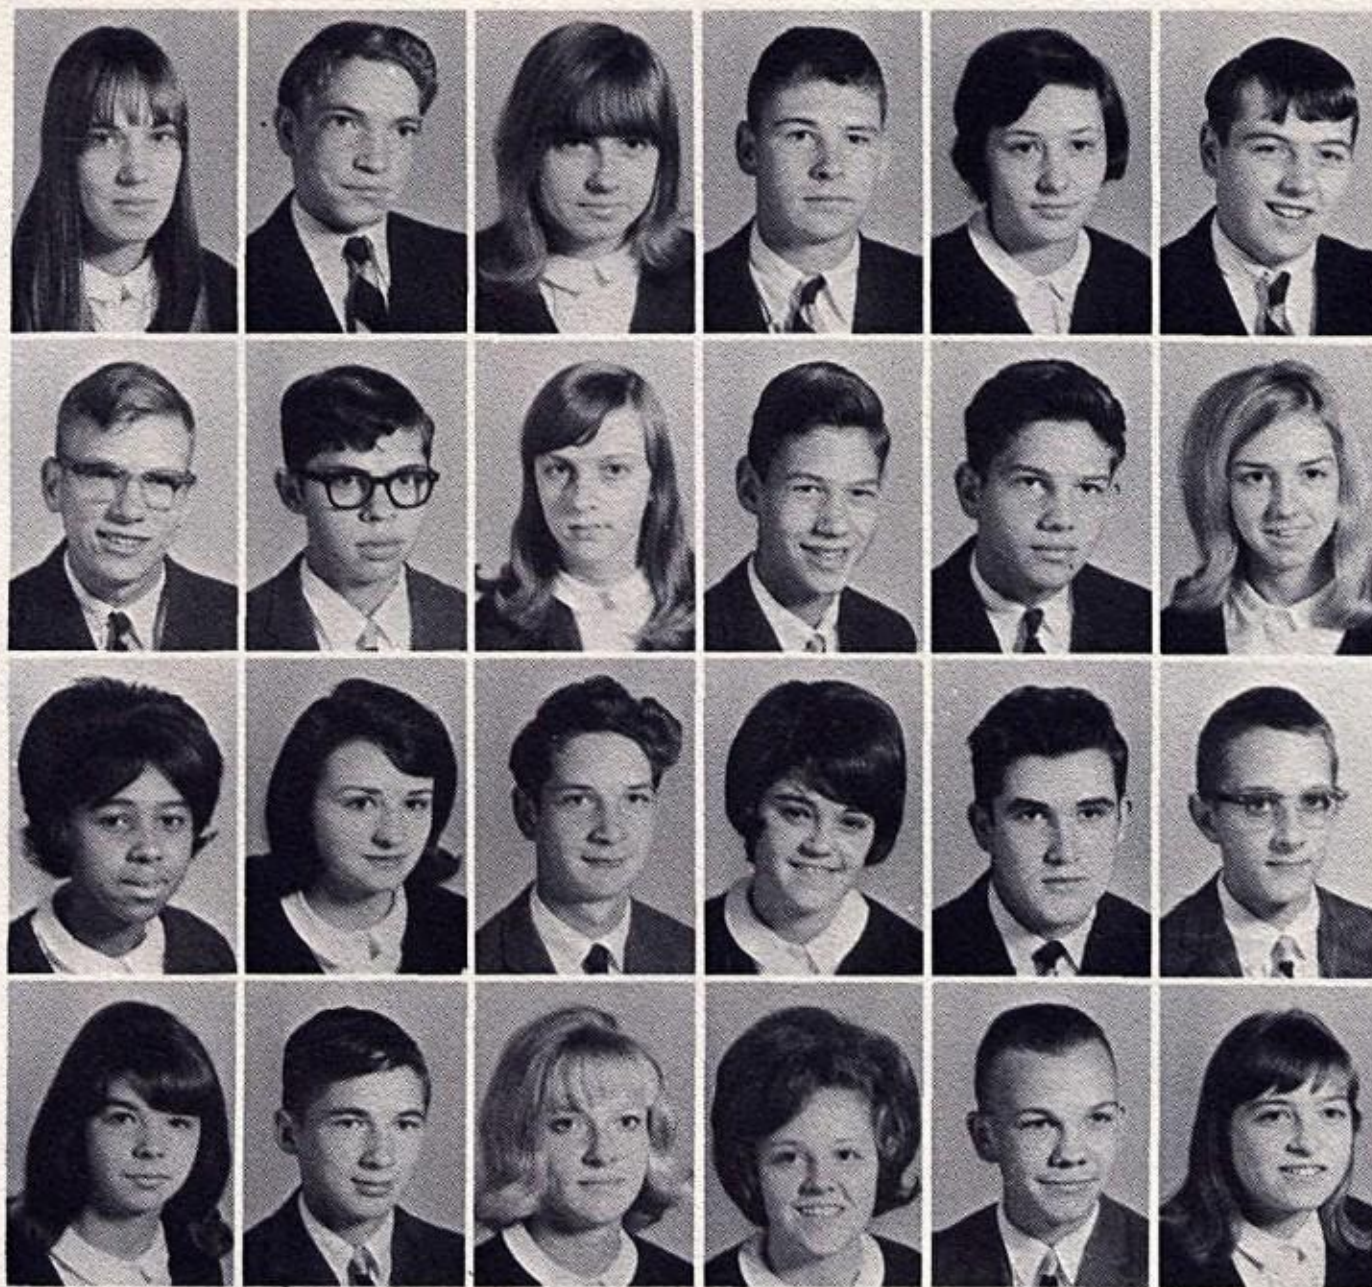

The Sophomore year is distinguished by the smell of formaldehyde in a biology lab, and the period of waiting to drive in the Driver's Ed. classes. However, the Sophomore year is not all drudgery for the year allows twelve lucky boys and girls to attend their first formal dance - the Junior-Senior Prom as hat-checkers and waitresses.

Class of '70 adapts itself quickly to WRHS

CLASS OFFICERS: Kevin McNeely, President; Randy Allen, Vice-President; Judy Redden, Secretary; Kathy Schenk, Treasurer.

The Freshman year has been said by many to be the most exciting year of all. For it is during this year that one finds many changes in the school routine. Changing classes, a "private" locker, organized physical education, and seemingly hundreds of new friends all add to the thrill of being a "punk" Freshman.

The Freshman year sets the pace for one's entire high school career and also begins the most wonderful memories of a lifetime.

Freshman P. E. classes painfully learn headstands on the mats.

Mrs. Sowers aids two boys in solving schedule problems.

Betty,
Although I haven't really known you very long I can say that you are really a great girl.
I don't know what I would do with out you during those BEAUTIFUL tests in our Economy class. Probably Flunk. Hk.
I will never forget when we went to Law Valley and got lost ~~of~~ on those horses. That was fun but they did I got Sore. That I wish you + Joe all of the Luck you had.
Always a Friend,
Mitzi

Betty,

It's been fun
going to school with you for all these years!
It was fun during the summer riding horses, too! Nancy was just right for you. Boy,
P.S. & Drama is something else!!!
Good luck!

Love ya,
Cousin Sarah

Betty,

you are truly one of the sweetest and cutest girls I know. We have had some great times these past 12 years. Good to you in the future.

A friend forever
Kathy

Betty,

I have really enjoyed the few classes that we have had together at West.
Remember Home Ec? Who could forget that.

The Best of Luck to a Swell Girl,
Beverly Bogle

Betty.
It's been great knowin ya
and I guess I'll keep on knowin ya. We've had lots of fun together and a few wild times, and I'll try and remember 'em.
Love
Larry

A friend always

Betty

It will really be a pleasure to write in your annual because you are one of my most treasured friends. You don't know how much your friendship has meant to me in the past. I felt that I could always trust you with any thing that might come up, and I don't feel that I was let down. But even though it seems like this twelve year would never come - it has. I only hope that it will not hurt our friendship. Even though we have had a few close calls like test and ect.

Betty, while I'm writing I want to wish you and Joe all the luck in the world. I hope things work out better for you this time. Joe, to me, seems like a real nice boy. For your sake I hope he is for you deserve the best there is.

Now, may you lead a good and successful life. May God Bless you in every thing you do and say.

Always A Good Friend,

Wanda

Betty
I have known you for a long time and have always thought you were a nice girl. Best of luck to you in the future.
Stanley

Betty
Best of luck
to a real sweet girl.
Hugh

Betty.

Well its very hard for me to tell such a sweet girl actually how much I have enjoyed her. we have really had loads of fun in the past and more in the years to come. you are a very sweet girl and deserve the best in life. Best of luck in the future. (Joe) a friend ~~at~~ always,
